

POST-COVID OPPORTUNITY SCAN

The Center for Learning, Assessment, and Science at California State University, East Bay, in February 9, 2021 added a Post-COVID Opportunity Scan. Led by the Assessment and Learning Center.

1. Flexibility: The center is currently providing a range of flexible options for students. This includes offering asynchronous learning, self-paced courses, and hybrid options. The center is also providing support for students who are struggling with their coursework, including tutoring and academic advising. The center is also providing support for students who are struggling with their mental health, including counseling and crisis services. The center is also providing support for students who are struggling with their financial situation, including financial aid and scholarship services. The center is also providing support for students who are struggling with their housing situation, including emergency housing and financial assistance.

2. Infrastructure Support (IT and physical building spaces): The center is currently providing support for students in terms of IT and physical building spaces. This includes providing access to computer labs, learning management systems, and other digital resources. The center is also providing support for students who are struggling with their physical building spaces, including providing access to quiet study spaces and providing support for students who are struggling with their physical health.